ARE BUSINESS MEN HONEST?

None Can Be Successful if He Practises Fair Dealing, Says Noted Eng ish Preacher Now on Tour Here.

"As a matter of cold fact, no successful business man in modern times can be honest. Conditions in business are such to-day that the business man must take gross advantage of his competitors every chance he gets or go to the wall. Competition is too keen."-Accusation made by the don, England, who is here on a preaching tour, in a lecture delivered in Philadelphia.

The Evening World has submitted the above startling charge to promtheat business men of New York City, and today prints the second of a series of interviews on the accusations of the noted London clergy. man, whose views on the relation of the Church to problems of the material world have given him an international reputation.

Banker Willard V. King Criticises PREACHER FOR CARELESS ACCUSATION.
